The Heart of Steel: The university Edition, Color. 54 mins. (C). G. (Narrated: English). Video Released Sep. 2005. Directed by Angelo J. Guglielmo, Jr. What happens when we step outside the box in which we live? Where does the day take us when we lend a hand to uplift the human condition? What remarkable power lies beneath the facade of the ordinary citizen? How these questions are answered in the face of the most devastating act of the new century, the attack on the World Trade Center on the morning of September 11, 2001, is to see THE HEART OF STEEL, the new documentary from director Angelo J. Guglielmo, Jr. THE HEART OF STEEL is a riveting documentary that explores how impassioned individuals choose to break from their comfortable lives to help those in need and, in so doing, find themselves calling upon inner resources they never knew they had. On the front line, the very essence of their beings is challenged continually as they strive to accomplish what seems like an impossible set of tasks. Despite the figurative and literal roadblocks, they become more determined, with hearts of steel. Their chance meeting with one another not only changes their outlook on life, but also evolves into deep, life-defining friendships. Their names will become as familiar as the street on which you live. Jen, London, Esther, Gina, Frank, Margie, Val, Helene, Damaris, Keke, Susan, Mike, Bobbi, Geoff, Diane, Ami, Rhonda, Stafford, Steve and Angelo. These are the Renegade Volunteers, a group of average hardworking citizens who disembark from their lives and show up at a turning point in history to help in any way that they can. With careers in areas ranging from real estate to investment banking to the arts, they arrive to volunteer without being part of any official agency and with nothing more than a pair of hands and a willing spirit. Hearts heavy with grief, they resolve to restore order in the midst of chaos and pandemonium. Risking their own personal safety, they blindly proceed to fill a significant void for those in need. While Mike arranges with colleagues to have a flatbed truck driven up from North Carolina, Geoff and Rhonda mire through government channels to access a large number of respirators. In the passing hours, some of the Renegades organize a convoy of army jeeps loaded with supplies, and others dig through piles of rubble for people and personal belongings. Through it all, each one of them thinks, "Who am I to be doing this." Yet, they continue on and do what has to be done. THE HEART OF STEEL shatters the illusion of the "every man" who walks beside us each day looking out only for himself, and demonstrates the powers of people from all walks of life as they come together for a common purpose. Perhaps most important, it reveals how an unexpected turning point in history can prove to be just as irrevocably life-changing for those on the periphery of the event as it is for those directly affected by it. Offering a candid view of the toughest kind of volunteerism and service, THE HEART OF STEEL is, at its core, the story of civilians who, in reaching out, come to realize their full potential and have their lives forever changed. It is about loss and rebirth, pain and joy, tragedy and reward, and the worst and best of humanity, ultimately illustrating the transformative nature of volunteering and its effect on the human spirit. As one of the Renegades puts it, "Life's importance has shifted. This experience was a huge gift that let me find out who I am. I don't think I'll ever be the same person ever again." Rewarding the audience with an extraordinary message, THE HEART OF STEEL deftly weaves actual news footage with firsthand interviews of the Renegade Volunteers. It has received accolades from The White House, the State Department, public libraries, Volunteer groups and test audiences from New York to Los Angeles.Produced in Association with The September 11th Families Association by documentarian-writer-director-producer Angelo J. Guglielmo, Jr., THE HEART OF STEEL captures, in searing detail, where our best natures are capable of going. Guglielmo, Angelo J. Jr. DVD. (ISBN: 978-0-9770266-0-9(4), UPC: 83710123403O) $250.00.

A tangled web of blackmail, murder and passion awaits former Scotland Yard detective Albert Tyburn (Trevor Eve) when he arrives in Nairobi. In three mysteries-Private Lives, Hide in Plain Sight and The Sport of Kings-Tyburn uses his cunning and courage to battle arson, drug-dealing, murder and more. Private Lives: When Superintendent Albert Tyburn (Trevor Eve, The Politician's Wife) is thrust into an investigation of the disappearance of millionairess Lady Daphne Ellesmere, he penetrates the closed world of Nairobi's "Happy Valley" set to question Daphne's aviatrix sister, Emma Fitzgerald (Susannah Harker, Pride and Prejudice); Daphne's estranged husband, Lord Harry; and her suspected lover, Viscount Guy "Boy" Cameron. Tyburn soon becomes tangled in a web of murder, arson, and a secret love affair, which holds a surprising fate for his sidekick, Clive Lanyard. Meanwhile, Tyburn's own secret is revealed in a romantic moment with Emma. Hide in Plain Sight: Superintendent Albert Tyburn's investigation of the death of a young African girl at local Christian mission pits him against a killer-and a powerful witch doctor who puts a curse on him. As Tyburn tries to shake off the frightening side effects of tribal wrath, he follows a trail of faked evidence, blackmail, and secret identities, certain it is leading him to something evil-but of what origin? Tyburn's flirtation with spirited aviatrix Emma Fitzgerald (Susannah Harker, Pride and Prejudice) takes off. The Sport of Kings: When ruthless newspaper baron Max Van der Vuurst (Joss Ackland, Lethal Weapon 2) is exonerated in a local murder case and is later found burned to death in his bed, Superintendent Albert Tyburn has to determine whether the two cases are connected. A gun battle with a band of African marauders and the exposure of a rash of shocking family and financial secrets trigger a final surprise from Van der Vuurst, and drives Tyburn's love affair with Emma Fitzgerald (Susannah Harker, Pride and Prejudice) to the brink-literally. Hell's Angel 69, 1 disc. Color. 97 mins mins. Age: 17-UP. NR. Video Released Jul. 2004. Directed by Lee Madden. THE RUMBLE THAT ROCKED LAS VEGAS!In one of the wildest robbery plots ever conceived, two wealthy brothers (TOM STERN, JEREMY SLATE) play a deadly game by infiltrating the ranks of the Hell?s Angels with the ultimate purpose of using them for a cover in the deadliest gamble ever dared, the holdup of Caesars Palace in Las Vegas!Once the brothers have passed the painful and violent initiation rites of the outlaw motorcycle gang, they put a daring plan into action. Using the Angels as a disruptive cover, the two hold up Caesar?s Palace casino in Las Vegas and leave the gang ?holding the bag.? Their scheme is a smashing success, but they have forgotten one small detail- NO ONE makes fools of the Hell?s Angels.With a vengeance even the Nevada State Police can?t match, the Angels? set off in search of the two thieves. When you play with the Hell?s Angels, you play for keeps!The Hell's Angels, riding a wave of notoriety helped along by the counterculture's embrace of these outlaws, made a number of notorious biker flicks in the late 1960s and early 1970s. HELL'S ANGELS '69 stars Ralph "Sonny" Barger, (infamous leader of the Oakland chapter), Terry The Tramp and the original Oakland Hell?s Angels! Also stars Tom Stern, Jeremy Slate, and Connie Van Dyke. Media Blasters, Inc. (Guilty Pleasures). DVD. (ISBN: 978-1-58655-519-1(7), Order #: GPDVD-0410) $14.95.

Hell's Bells. Christianity. Current Events. 185 mins. Are you aware of the dangers of rock n' roll? Emphasizing un-Christian values & glorifying all sorts of bizarre, rebellious actions & lifestyles, rock music, musicians, & videos have the powerful potential to brainwash our children into thinking that, to be "cool," these characteristics must be imitated. This gripping video sheds light on the dangerously seductive message behind popular rock tunes, how it affects your children, & how it contrasts against the effect of Jesus Christ - the true positive role model. Henri Langlois: Phantom of the Cinemateque. (2005). Color. 128 mins. (French, Subtitled: English). Video Released Aug. 2006. Directed by Jacques Richard. For forty years, Henri Langlois presided over the Cinematheque Francaise with absolute commitment and unwavering passion. Beginning in 1936, Langlois beg, borrow and steal hustling preserved the priceless treasures of an art form then still too new to be recognized as such. Through ad hoc screenings in Paris apartments, hallways and stairwells, the ycung Langlois shared his love for film art with the enthusiasm of an aesthetic epicure and the discerning appetite of a film gourmand. Under Nazi occupation, Langlois went underground, rescuing and secretly screening banned films under the noses of the SS. Through the halcyon 60's Langlois battled bureaucrats, championed auteurs and ushered in a new golden age of cinema where "life broke through the screen" and filmmaking and film-going merged into a single discipline. Hidden Heroes. (2001). Color. 50 mins. mins. Video Released Dec. 2003. Produced by Windborne Productions Staff. The rescue of Jews in Nazi-occupied Holland is a story of unimaginable courage and faith. As told by those who lived through the Nazi terror, this evocative documentary recounts what it was like for Dutch Jews to face systematic isolation, persecution.and elimination. Our subjects were mere children at the time. Children who witnessed their family and friends being arrested and dragged away ? and, for most, never to be seen again. Children for whom unbearable pain and loss was cruelly compressed into a single experience of overwhelming terror.Hitler?s plan to eliminate an entire race of people may have succeeded if not for those who saw the lie in his quest for perfection, those willing to stand against the Nazi evil?the Dutch resistance. They were ordinary people willing to risk their lives and the lives of their family to shelter and save Dutch Jews. These were Holland?s Hidden Heroes. Vision Video. VHS. The Highwaymen: Florida's Outsider Artists. Color. 58 mins. Video Released Jan. 2003. Narrated by Spencer Christian. This is the story of a group of young untrained African-American landscape painters that emerged from the small central Florida town of Fort Pierce in the late 50s and early 60s. Segregation and racist attitudes of the time prevented them from working with traditional art galleries. Instead, they traveled throughout the state selling their paintings out of the trunks of their cars. The going rate was around $35 a painting. They painted on wallboard because it was cheaper than canvas. Back then, some called it ?junk art.? But in 1995 the Highwaymen became recognized by the art world. Today their paintings sometimes sell for thousands of dollars, and they are considered an important part of Florida?s 20th Century cultural history. It is estimated that their aggregate work may exceed 200,000 paintings.The Highwaymen had no pretensions about their art. They saw themselves as craftsmen, painting pictures strictly to earn a living for themselves and their families. It was a lot better than picking oranges or whatever other dead-end jobs were available to them. They mainly painted Florida back-country scenes ? coastal savannahs, hardwood hammocks, lonely tanin-stained rivers, expansive skies, capacious clouds and bold strokes of dramatic colors. Theirs is an inspirational story of ingenuity and entrepreneurship, and ultimately, of perseverance in the face of societal limitations. Janson Media. VHS. A History of Black Achievement in America. Color. 216 mins. Video Released Apr. 2005. This original, eight-part series documents Black Achievement in American history, its defining role in the growth of a country, and influence on current events. Presented by James Avery, the series highlights the many contributions of Black Americans that have influenced our culture, enriched our society with their achievements, and shaped the history of the United States. It's one of the least known stories in American history. It is the story of black achievement and accomplishment. Against all odds, American blacks have built their own institutions: families, schools, churches and businesses. Against all odds, American blacks have created great art and science. Fought heroically in every American war. Against all odds, black men and women have worked endlessly to secure their own freedom and equality. The untold Story of blacks in America is a 350-year saga of incredible achievements. This is that story. Ambrose Video Publishing, Inc. VHS. (ISBN: 978-1-58281-307-3(8)) $199.99; DVD. History of Christianity. Color. 6 x 30 min mins. Video Released Sep. 2004. This is a survey course designed to further stimulate your curiosity by providing glimpses of some of the pivotal events in the spread Christianity and sketches of great Christian figures who have significantly affected Christian history thereby shaping the history of the world. Kit includes six half-hour programs, leader's guide, program scripts, and reproducible student workbook.PART I: The Early Church ? From the executions of Peter and Paul in Rome to the death of Augustine in North Africa, we follow the Early Church as she emerges from the womb of Judaism to survive horrendous persecution and become established in the Roman world. Explore what took place at the early Ecumenical Councils and how the great doctrines of the Church were formulated.PART II: The Church in the Middle Ages ? During this period in history, universities, monasteries, and museums were established. The Church, with her majestic Cathedrals, joined these institutions in influencing society. But this interaction with culture was not without difficulties: barbarian invasion, crusades, the Muslim challenge. Also, during this period, Christendom was divided into the Eastern Church and the Western Church. PART III: The Reformation ? It was an age of exploration and discovery, of art and literature. The Medieval Church, however, had placed too much emphasis on the church as an institution. As a result, the papacy enjoyed unusual power often coupled with unusual corruption. Cries of reform were heard all over Europe. The Protestant Reformation of the sixteenth century was a tremendous movement of spiritual and ecclesial renewal. PART IV: The Age of Reason and Piety ? During the two centuries between the death of Martin Luther in 1546 and the conversion of John Wesley in 1738, the Christian world experienced a major paradigm shift from an ?age of faith? to an ?age of reason.? On the heels of Copernicus? discovery that the earth is not the center of the universe, rose ?the Enlightenment? ? a movement that shifted the focus away from God and to human creativity. PART V: Christianity in the New World ? America was the land of new beginnings. Europe represented for Americans a corrupt past, whose contamination they wished to escape. This period includes the study of great traditions such as the Puritans and Quakers, and great movements such as the First Great Awakening.PART VI: Christian Movement in an Age of Uncertainty ? From the fall of Bastille in 1789 (marking the beginning of the French Revolution) to the fall of the Berlin wall in 1989 (marking the end of communism), study the Christian movement in an age of uncertainty. William Carey, the ?father of modern missions? carries the Gospel to India; others followed to remote regions ? people like David Livingstone, Lottie Moon, Henry Martyn, and Hudson Taylor. Explore the Christian Church as it moves into all the world.Presenter-host Dr. Timothy George is an Historian and Dean of Samford University?s Beeson Divinity School. Trained in theology and church history at Harvard University, he has written numerous articles and books including Theology of the Reformers, John Calvin and the Church, and Faithful Witness: The Life and Mission of William Carey. George also serves as senior editor of Christianity Today.Complete Package Includes:1. Six half-hour video programs2. 48-page leader?s guide3. 48-page reproducible student workbook4. HIV / AIDS & Livelihoods: Experiences in Mainstreaming from Malawi. Video Released Aug. 2004. Author Oxfam International What do we mean by 'mainstreaming HIV/AIDS in development programs'?This video, in NTSC format, introduces some of the realities and complexities of this work. In 2000, the Joint Oxfam Program in Malawi took a strategic decision to increase its understanding of HIV/AIDS and of the impact of the pandemic at a program and policy level. As a result, the Shire Highlands Sustainable Livelihoods Program set out to modify its work to ensure that the most vulnerable in communities are not left out of development processes.By capturing some of the interventions devised in this program in Malawi, this video:* highlights the need to place HIV/AIDS and its effects at the centre of the development programme in order to minimize the impact of HIV/AIDS on people at the community level* shares real experiences of mainstreaming through interviews with Oxfam staff, Village Development Committees, and beneficiaries, and shows the spin-offs of increased community mobilisation* raises key issues for planners and policy makers.The video concludes with four questions to provide a focus for viewing and a stimulus to discussion on mainstreaming HIV/AIDS into development programs. There is a booklet of notes for trainers or presenters, including transcripts of key sections of the video. A transcript of the full script is also available to download."HIV/AIDS and Livelihoods: Experiences in Mainstreaming from Malawi" is designed for those working in the field of development, especially agriculture. It is particularly useful for international and national NGOs and government departments who are looking for ways to mainstream HIV/AIDS within the context of their programs. Hollywood's Magical Island-Catalina, 1 cass. Color and B&W. 50 mins mins. Home. NR (English, Narrated: English). Video Released May 2004. Directed by Greg Reitman. HOLLYWOOD?S MAGICAL ISLAND-CATALINATHROUGH THE REMARKABLE EYE of first time film director, Greg Reitman, we get a first hand glimpse of The Magic Isle. While exploring historical, social, and environmental changes, the film captures the mystical splendors, natural beauty and romance of Santa Catalina Island. Using a mix of rare 16mm, archival film and old black and white stills, inter-cut with interviews of islanders, historians and celebrities; the viewer is taken on a journey during America?s golden era. It begins with the acquisition of the Santa Catalina Island Company in 1919 led by William Wrigley, Jr. He set a course for Catalina?s future in the world of art, sports, music and entertainment that was unmatched in US history even through present day. The film documents architectural achievements, many are first of a kind buildings and innovations that transformed Catalina from a simple island into a modern day state-of-the-art playground. The film highlights many of the individuals including stars of the Big Band Era, Marilyn Monroe, and the island?s role as Hollywood?s secret playground for the stars. The island even played a role in helping to elect a President. We witness the island?s tragedy and heartache ? deftly captured in the film with heartfelt interviews and a score that tugs at the emotions. Utilizing interviews with Jean-Michel Cousteau, heirs of the Wrigley family, residents and visitors of the island; we learn of William Wrigley, Jr?s dream of preserving the island?s natural beauty as well as providing a magical place for all to enjoy. The film concludes with Art Good Jazz Trax. Fender?s Catalina Island Blues Festival, and a visual kaleidoscope of modern day Catalina Island as an ecological paradise highlighting the revival of the island as a place of leisure and entertainment. Blue Water Entertainment, Inc. VHS. (ISBN: 978-0-9769566-1-7(6)) $19.95; DVD. (ISBN: 978-0-9769566-0-0(8)) $24.95.

Composed by Claire Burch. Deals with the subject of homelessness from three perspectives - two represented by interviews, the third by music & collage imagery. The combined emphasis is not on the tragedy of the situation, but rather on the friction between society & a marginalized group - a friction that is potentially explosive. This emphasis is characterized by the opening clip, James Baldwin addressing an audience in Berkeley, where Baldwin says: "If I ain't got nothing to lose, what are you going to do to me?" The primary view of the situation is given via an impassioned interview at the Center for Independent Living in Berkeley with Margaret Hernandez, a homeless Native American & mother of three. Homeopathy: Medicine for the Twenty-First Century. Author Dana Ullman. Sound Photosynthesis. VHS. (Order #: V0217-90) $35.00.

Homeopathy: Mystery of Healing. 60 mins mins. Video Released Aug. 2005. Featuring interviews with experts in the U.S., England, France and Germany, this comprehensive documentary looks at the origins, principles, and modern practice of the alternative and holistic form of medicine known as homeopathy. Two centuries ago, German physician Samuel Hahnemann developed this system of medicine, treating his patients with specialized, minute doses of natural substances intended to increase the body's own inherent defenses. Hahnemann?s methods had amazing results ? during the deadly 1832 cholera epidemic that swept through Europe, homeopaths claimed a 97% cure rate.As Hahnemann's body of knowledge increased, so did his following, although traditional physicians ridiculed his work, and homeopathy spread throughout the world. Today, homeopathic practitioners, physicians and veterinarians continue to successfully treat patients for a wide range of physical and mental illnesses, using ideas and remedies published by Hahnemann in his Materia Medica. Rather than suppressing symptoms, homeopathic medicines stimulate the body to defend and heal itself. Modern clinical trials have proven homeopathy to be safe and effective in a wide variety of non life-threatening conditions. But the processes by which these tiny doses of natural substances are able to cure remains, for many, a mystery. Janson Media. DVD. House of D. Color. 96 mins. PG13. Video Released Oct. 2005. Robin Williams, David Duchovny, Tea Leoni. Directed by David Duchovny. David Duchovny makes his feature-film debut as a writer-director in the very funny, very poignant HOUSE OF D. Living in Paris, Tom Warshaw (Duchovny) is an American expatriate who feels it is time to tell his wife and son the truth about what happened when he was a kid. The action then shifts to Greenwich Village in the 1970s, when young Tom (the remarkable Anton Yelchin) has recently lost his father and is trying to survive with his severely depressed mother (Duchovny's real-life wife, Tea Leoni). His best friend is an older, mentally challenged man named Pappass (Robin Williams); the two of them deliver meat together, go to the movies, and see each other in school, where Pappass is the assistant janitor. As his mother's mental state deteriorates, Tom becomes friendly with Lady (Erykah Badu), an inmate at the Women's House of Detention on Tenth Street; they talk about life and love, but Tom can't see her, as she speaks with him from behind the window of her cell up high in solitary confinement. When Tom starts falling for a rich girl, Melissa (Robin Williams's real-life daughter, Zelda Williams, in her feature-film debut), Pappass acts out, changing everything. Duchovny's film is both charming and moving, filled with believable characters caught in believable situations. The acting is uniformly excellent, as is the 1970s soundtrack, including songs by Van Morrison, the Allman Brothers Band, the James Gang, the Doobie Brothers, Stevie Wonder, and Elton John. Lions Gate Home Entertainment. DVD. (UPC: 031398177654) $27.99.

How Hitler Lost the War. World War, 1939-1945. Color and B&W. 67 mins. A probing look into the critical mistakes Hitler made that brought the Nazi regime from the brink of world domination to destruction & defeat. This intriguing view of history convincingly proposes that U.S. arms & resources did not win World War II as much as Hitler's military blunders lost it. Initially, the program relates how critical childhood rejections resulted in Hitler's rise to power, & how such shiftless habits as his sleeping late affected war strategies. Knowledgeable German officers under the Reich provide firsthand accounts of the effect of Hitler's decisions to storm Poland, to pull up short of annihilating the British in France, to alienate the sympathetic Ukrainians, & to delay the advance on Moscow. Contribution by Richard Brzustowicz, Jr. Composed by Edward Applebaum. Produced by George P. Csicsery. Screenplay by George P. Csicsery. An epidemic of false accusations gripped American society through the mid-1990s, wreaking havoc in the lives of individuals and families—people trapped by the missionary zeal of helping professionals trying to save children. In 1990 and 1991, 15-year-old Nicole Althaus accused her father, mother, and a couple she had never met of molesting her in bizarre ritual circumstances. Filmed over five years, Hungry for Monsters examines the story of a Pittsburgh family's ordeal when accusations of satanic ritual abuse are made by a daughter who believes she has recovered memories of heinous crimes. The film traces the personal experiences of Nicole Althaus, her parents, and other participants in the saga, through arrests and trials to eventual reconciliation. In the end there are some disturbing questions that may never be resolved.The StoryRenee and Rick Althaus, both 53 years old, live outside of Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania. In 1990 their 15-year-old daughter Nicole accused her father of molesting her, and Rick was arrested. Earlier, Nicole had developed a close friendship with Priscilla Zappa, her World Cultures teacher at Mt. Lebanon High School, and together they explored the realms of witchcraft, satanic abuse, and David Lynch movies. When Nicole was removed from her home, she was placed in foster care with Mrs. Zappa. Following treatment by Dr. Judith Cohen, a psychiatrist at Western Psychiatric Institute and Clinic, Nicole claimed that Rick had abused her since she was six years old and forced her to have sex with strangers in exchange for large amounts of money, and that she had given birth by C-section and had aborted two other fetuses. One was sacrificed in a satanic ritual and fed to a pack of dogs. An old lady had been murdered and buried in the back yard. She had witnessed another murder after being forced to participate in a sex orgy at a mansion she called "the pretty place." Nicole even identified the house where the orgies and murder had occurred, and George and Heidi Stipetich, its owners, were promptly arrested. Rick Althaus was arrested again. This time, Renee, Nicole's mother, was also arrested—led from the classroom where she was teaching in the middle of the school day and handcuffed. The Stipetiches had never met Nicole or her parents. They soon discovered that Renee and Rick Althaus were just as baffled about how they fit into the story. Later they learned that a county investigator with a beef against Stipetich had driven Nicole by the Stipetich house and prompted her to identify it as the house where she had been forced to participate in various sex acts. An exuberant media began speculating about additional arrests as lurid details of a satanic cult's activities around the Pittsburgh area were revealed. But the prosecution's case unraveled as private detectives produced evidence that contradicted nearly every claim in the long list of accusations. The lack of evidence, however, did not impress assistant district attorney Marianne Mulroy, who had befriended Nicole, and continued to champion the case, including its most bizarre elements, even after homicide investigators concluded that Nicole's accusations lacked substance: there were no bodies buried in the backyard, no suitcases full of money in Rick's attic, and Nicole had never been pregnant. The case was about to go to trial when Nicole's competency was challenged at pre-trial hearings. A duel of three psychiatrists ensued. Dr. Judith Cohen?s belief that Nicole had invented the most outrageous accusations only to mask real sexual abuse was challenged by two eminent authorities—Dr. Richard Schechter and Dr. Gary Glass—both of whom examined Nicole on behalf of the court. During her session with Glass, Nicole broke down and said she wanted to be reunited with her parents. Glass testified that he was "embarrassed for my profession for the treatment that was provided" to Nicole. All charges were dropped, and several months later, after a separation of close to two years. Csicsery, George. VHS. (ISBN: 978-0-9724588-0-1(8)) $37.00.

Hymns of Praise: Charles Wesley. Color. 90 mins. mins. Video Released Nov. 2003. Charles Wesley was one of the most prolific hymn writers of all time, having penned more than 6,500 hymns. Some of them are among the most beloved hymns of Christian history; hymns like ?Hark! The Herald Angels Sing? appear in the hymnals of every Christian denomination. Congregational hymn singing was a revolutionary idea in England at the time. Anglican churches had marvelous choirs, but the congregations rarely sang, and then only chanted Psalms to three or four simple tunes When John and Charles Wesley met the Moravians on their way to Georgia, both were very taken with the German hymns that the group sang. The Moravian Church, or Unity of Brethren, published the first hymnal for congregational singing in 1501, so this was a long-standing tradition for them and a vital part of Moravian worship. John Wesley became quite fluent in German and translated many of the Moravian hymns he learned in Georgia. Following his conversion, Charles Wesley often wrote a hymn a day, and the brothers published numerous hymnals. Charles? poems were often sung to popular tunes of the day, tunes that everyone could sing easily. In some cases, he rewrote popular songs people already knew to give them a spiritual message. Charles? hymns speak clearly of the theology and belief of the early Methodist movement.Meet Charles Wesley in this dramatic impersonation as he tells the true stories of the early days of Methodism, the events that led up to his conversion and the ?Aldersgate Experience? of his brother John, and the astonishing events as they first began to preach ? and sing ? in the fields of England. Ice Age Relics: Living Glaciers & Signs of Ancient Icesheets, 2 cass. Science-Geology. Color. Group. Glaciers, living relicts of the ice age, are still important today. They hold much of the earth's fresh water, sculpted much of North America, & promise an early return to finish their work. These films provide a coherent picture of how glaciers work, & what they did. Living Glaciers (Part I): Photographed in Antarctica, Greenland, the Rocky & Sierra Nevada Mountains, & Norway. Introduces glacial mechanics & mass budgets, the appearance of glaciers, & topographic features caused by mountain glaciers. Signs of Ancient Icesheets (Part II): Introduces the extent, causes & importance of the Pleistocene glaciation in North America. Especially emphasizes the signs of former icesheets: moraines, eskers, kames, kettles, & many more. Aerial & satellite photographs: photos from Wisconsin & Antarctica. Educational Images, Ltd. VHS. Set. (Order #: FV 1008V) $79.95.

If. (1968). Color and B&W. 112 mins. Video Released Jun. 2007. Author Lindsay Anderson. Lindsay Anderson's If. is a daringly anarchic vision of British society, set in a boarding school in late-sixties England. Before Kubrick made his mischief iconic in A Clockwork Orange, Malcolm McDowell made a hell of an impression as the insouciant Mick Travis, who, along with his school chums, trumps authority at every turn, finally emerging as violent savior against the draconian games of one-upmanship played by both students and the powers that be. Mixing color and black and white as audaciously as it mixes fantasy and reality, If. remains one of cinema's most unforgettable rebel yells. Criterion Collection. DVD. (ISBN: 978-1-934121-60-3(6), UPC: 7 1551502442 6) $39.95.
